Fuzzy FUTURES

FOREWORD

With a nostalgia for the past and an eye to the future, Sebastian Chaumeton's work is a representation of his generation. Blurring the boundaries of identity in a painterly fashion, his canvas paintings give order to the overload of information that permeate our screens on a daily basis. Attempting to make sense of the world we live in, each of Chaumeton's paintings provide commentary on an amalgamation of ideas ranging from meme culture, politics, art history, data misuse, social media and materialism.

B I O

Born in London in 1996, Sebastian Chaumeton's multi-layered works address issues surrounding the oversaturation of information and images in modern society, whilst also conveying a weariness about the consequences of technology's rapid advancements.

A recent graduate from the Chelsea College of Art, Chaumeton experiments with several mediums including ceramics, paintings and video installation. Having collaborated with heavyweight brands such as Laurent Perrier and P&O Cruises, his practice also extends to vibrant wall murals, often created by taking suggestions from members of the public.

Chaumeton lives and works in London.
